Goodloe Family Collection
Dates: 1910-2009
Extent: 1 document box; 7 artifact storage boxes [7.5 linear feet]

Scope and Content:
The Goodloe Family collection contains documents and artifacts that were recovered from various boxes and locations during a reorganization and assessment of the Bowie State University Archives and Special Collections in 2009-2010. They were most likely donated by Donna Goodloe in the 1980s or ’90s, probably at the time that the Goodloe House was donated to the Bowie State Alumni Association/BSU Foundation.
The collection consists of the family papers of Don S.S. Goodloe, Fannie Carey Goodloe, and Don Burrows Goodloe. Papers in the collection include correspondence, financial and legal documents, notebooks, programs, and photographs. Material in the collection relates to Don S.S. Goodloe's tenure as the first principal of the Maryland Normal and Industrial School at Bowie; Fannie Goodloe's tenure as a music teacher at the school; and Don B. Goodloe's matriculation at Howard University. There are also papers relating to the historic preservation of the Goodloe House. Correspondents in the papers include Henry Wilder Foote, Carter G. Woodson, Ernest E. Just, and J. Walter Huffington.

Family History:
He was the first principal of Maryland Normal and Industrial School at Bowie, 1911-1921.
They had three sons:
- Don Burrowes Goodloe (b. 1899 or 1900) attended Howard University, A.B. 1920; attended Harvard. He had 1 son, Don F. Goodloe, who married Donna M. Goodloe.
- Wallis Anderson Goodloe (b. 1902?-Nov. 26, 1985; lived in Goodloe house until death); attended Howard University ca. 1914, A.B. 1920; attended U-Pa; Harvard?
- Carey Reid Goodloe (b. 1904?- ?); had 2 sons, Cary and Reid

Cousin Goodloe D. White, DDS, also taught at the school (1918?). He was the nephew of Don S.S. Goodloe, and graduated in 1912 from the Md. Normal and Industrial School, then becoming a teacher there [from 1987 Founders/Annual Parents' Day program].

Land where house is located sold to D.S.S. Goodloe on Sept. 22, 1915 on three acres; from the deed, it seems that Goodloe was going to find a buyer for the additional 157 acres of land. House was built in 1916 using oak trees felled on the land there.
